

RTC Real-Time Center AG on an innovative path with IBIS®

RTC Real-Time Center AG is a service centre for banks and other financial services providers. The centre of excellence for fully mature banking solutions offers a comprehensive portfolio of products and services. This encompasses state-of-the-art banking software, desktop and system management solutions, print and despatch services as well as integrated solutions. In addition, RTC offers IT outsourcing services that provide optimum support to banks' core expertise in all areas.

RTC was founded in 1973 with the aim of using an integrated software platform to provide optimum support for banking processes whilst maintaining the highest possible security standards.

Successful banking platform

Today, with its IBIS® banking platform, RTC is the experienced and professional partner of choice for banking software and complete outsourcing solutions in Switzerland. With IBIS, RTC relies on the integrated depiction of all mission-critical banking processes, the use of state-of-the-art business rule and workflow engines and total support of business process outsourcing partners. Over a period of more than 30 years, the IBIS banking platform for universal, retail and asset management banks has grown to become a comprehensive, fully-featured solution. It goes almost without saying that IBIS evolves constantly to meet new business requirements of our bank customers. At the present moment RTC is on the way to providing a third-generation integrated banking system with IBIS. IBIS makes a decisive contribution to performance, dependability and security in all RTC customer business areas.

Best-of-breed application strategy

RTC pursues a best-of-breed application strategy and exclusively utilises the best available products for all areas such as loans, trading, securities back office, portfolio management, account management and reporting.

Third-generation integrated banking solution

The updated IBIS platform covers all aspects of banking with powerful software modules. IBIS stands for optimum support for all staff in their day-to-day work which is characterised by dynamic developments.

As a third-generation integrated banking solution, IBIS combines a 3-layer architecture with a service-oriented architecture (SOA), the standard architecture for business applications. RTC is one of the few organisations to have recognised the potential of this technology as long ago as the end of the 1990s. This has enabled RTC to build up a lead which it makes available to its customers for the provision of their market services.

Service and infrastructure facilities

Beyond the IBIS platform, RTC customers also benefit as and when required from our comprehensive service and infrastructure facilities, for example, in the conception and management of server farms, complex networks, high security solutions and decentralised Microsoft environments or our archiving and back-up services. RTC's two data centres located at independent sites in the Bern area are linked via a powerful redundant network infrastructure. They meet the highest security standards and provide failsafe system availability – guaranteeing uninterrupted operation in the event of a problem. The well-equipped print and despatch centre is fully oriented to customer and market needs. Training and service desk facilities as well as the many other facilities in our continuously expanding outsourcing product range focus on individual customer needs and make RTC a profitable partner in all mission-critical areas.

RTC Banking Solutions guarantee you performance, security and services in the background.

Brief profile

RTC Real-Time Center AG is a service centre for banks and other financial services providers. The centre of excellence for fully mature banking solutions offers a comprehensive portfolio of products and services. This encompasses banking software, desktop and system management solutions, print and despatch services as well as integrated solutions. In addition, RTC offers IT outsourcing services that provide optimum support to banks' core expertise in all areas.

rtc.ch

IT-Outsourcing & Banking Software

RTC Real-Time Center AG

Schwarzenburgstrasse 160

3097 Liebefeld

Telephone: 031/666 50 00

Fax: 031/666 50 01

URL: www.rtc.ch

